Come to our general meetings and view central Pennsylvania from high atop Reservoir Park!

A newsletter for, about, and by the members of Camp 15 and Auxiliary 7!

Come One, Come All - Ladies & Brothers, & Family & Friends, all are welcome to our Camp meetings at the National Civil War Museum and field trips at-large -- Bring your camera!

Camp 15's next monthly general meeting will be conducted on Sunday September 16, 2012 at National Civil War Museum high atop Reservoir Park, Harrisburg PA upper level room 222. Meeting begins at 2pm. Please have a safe and contented summer!

Plan now for the 2013 Pennsylvania Department annual convention – encampment at Gettysburg, Eisenhower Inn June 27, 28, and 29, 2013. This event will be one of the 150th anniversary activities hosted by Commandery of Pennsylvania. Major Commonwealth and Nationally known guests anticipated! This 2013 convention will be Pennsylvania's 133rd Encampment; the 130th Auxiliary Encampment; 100th annual Encampment for the DUVCW and the Woman's Relief Corps, Comrade Gabrio Corps #136.

Thank you to the Brothers of Hartranft Camp 15 that helped the National Civil War Museum place Banners on the property in commemoration of the civil war Sesquicentennial. The museum places Banners of the Fallen in honor of those killed in action during a significant civil war battle on the battle anniversary.

These Banners are placed in front of the museum building. The current Banners represent the Seven Days Battles June 25 – July 1, 1862, near Richmond Virginia. The flags will be on display into July!

And, thank you also to the Brothers that manned the Hartranft table at the recent civil war Relic show at Gettysburg. See following text on that event:

It is a pleasure to report that it seems the Gettysburg recruitment activity this past Saturday and Sunday (June 30, July 1) was a special and interesting success. Very special Kudos goes to Brother John Martin. Brother Martin sat at the recruiting post for virtually all of Saturday; the times I was there with him, there really seemed to be a pretty solid flow of interest from attendees of the Civil War Antique Show. No real "Buck Tail" stood his post better than did Brother Martin, virtually the whole of Saturday. I am going to estimate 15 people of good interest stopped by and asked a lot of questions. All the applications were taken by Sunday morning when I arrived at post. On Saturday morning, War Governor Curtin made his appearance after I initially set up the display, and he “policed- up” the display to make it look more presentable to the crowd. Governor Curtin AKA Dave Klinepeter, gave me a few lessons in display etiquette, but I’m afraid that my artistic/design skills, are like the Southern Confederacy, a “Lost Cause”.

On Sunday, I manned the post for 2 or 3 hours. The flow of persons was slower, but still about 7 people came and several took information via the pamphlets. Now here is the interesting part, 85% to 90% of those who stopped were from outside the area; Massachusetts, Western PA, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware (even one from South Carolina)! Only a minority would probably join Camp 15, although there were a couple people of local habitation. It was also quite interesting to learn that most of the interested parties did specifically know about a Civil war ancestor. Only a minority would probably join Camp 15, although there were a couple people of local habitation, I don’t know if we struck any new membership for camp 15, but the SUVCW might have possibly picked up 1 or 2 new recruits for other camps: F. C. & L.

I recommend we recruit again this coming Fall 2012 in the same forum. The 2012 Fall show will be in late October or early November, 2012. Spearheaded by Jeffery Smith.

Infantry Presentation – Lecture and Authentic Equipment Exhibit – Sunday, October 21, 2012

Was your Union ancestor mustered into an Infantry Regiment? Statistics suggest that over 80% of Union soldiers were designated Infantry. Brother Jeffery Smith has volunteered to give a presentation to Camp 15 on Civil War Infantry. The presentation will discuss the organization, training, tactics, and equipment of the typical Civil War Infantry Regiment. The presentation will include a question and answer session and actual infantry equipment from the war will be brought to the presentation for the brothers to examine following the presentation. The presentation will be given on forthcoming Sunday, October 21, 2012. If you have relics you would like to share, have them on hand, Sunday October 21 – the more the better.

JULY 4TH 1866 independence DAY -- Return of the Penna Battle flags.

by the men to remember what they had done. There were no provisions to collect them by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On June 13, 1865 the War Department ordered the chief mustering officers to turn over all colors in their possession to the governors of the various states. By this time, as stated the Pennsylvania State Flags were scattered all over the state. The few flags collected by the state were not being properly cared for; and the veterans in possession of the flags were not willing to turn them in. By the end of 1865 it was realized that proper care of the flags was necessary and government issued colors were to be returned to state care in a ceremony on Independence Day 1866, at Philadelphia Independence Hall.

A grand parade and ceremony were planned. The streets in daylight were decorated with every patriotic device, and at night there was a general illumination. General Grant attended; Major General Winfield Hancock served as grand marshal.

Besides many veterans marching, children attending the special Orphans Schools paraded each given small flags, DISPLAYED ABOVE, they won the hearts of the sympathetic public. General Meade received the loudest applause as the "Hero of Gettysburg". When the parade was completed by the extended line of march to Independence Square, where the old color bearers carrying the tattered flags formed around the platform erected for that purpose. General Harry White opened the ceremonies of the flag return with a stirring speech. Following that the Reverend Thomas Brainerd, D.D., offered a fervent prayer for the return of peace and a restored union. At the parade's end, General Meade stood in front of Independence Hall and officially returned the colors to Governor Curtin, than making comments on the veterans and their service. Governor Curtin responded by honoring the bravery and heroism of the Pennsylvania veterans. and spoke at length about their accomplishment during the war. Fireworks closed the program. At that time the flag collection totaled 270 colors.

A souvenir medallion was sold for the event, see display later in this issue of your Hartranft Herald. Front has old state coat of arms, inscription reads "Pennsylvania Volunteers- Gettysburg July 3, 1863" Back has crossed flags and shield, inscription reads "In Commemoration of the Return of the State Flags of Penna Regiments. At Independence Hall July 4, 1866"

Also a SOUVENIR PROGRAM of the event sold for 10 cents (a lot of money in 1866).

Over the years the flags were moved several times and more flags were turned-in to the state. Fortunately they were housed in the Executive Library and Museum Building when the capitol burned on February 2, 1897. When the capitol was rebuilt it included niches and it was suggested the battle flags be placed in them. The ceremony for the transfer of the flags took place on Flag Day in 1914. The aged Civil War Veterans marched to the Capitol rotunda. Many of the flag bearers in the parade were the same color bearers in the 1866 parade, as well as in the war.

First Sergeant in Company A, 143rd Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, captured a Confederate flag at the Battle of the Wilderness, Virginia on May 6, 1864, demoralizing the enemy.

The picture is from the Civil War Museum in Scranton, PA.

On Saturday June 30th I went to the Civil War Relic Show at the Sports Complex in Gettysburg. A pat on the back for, Brother Jeff Smith for securing table space for Camp 15, right at the entrance, at visitors had to walk past it; also for Brother John Martin's attendance and manning camp 15's table all afternoon.

While there I saw a GAR grave marker that was unknown to me. It was large, including the man's name and unit he served in, showed no Post number. There was another marker on the table with a different name, so this was not one of a kind. Because of the price, I took a picture. See photo end of this article. If any of our members are interested in GAR items, this is the show to go to. There are several advanced dealers there with many fine items. Just take your wallet.

On the morning of July 4th I arrived at Paxtang, for the annual holiday parade. Paxtang is a small town, big on Patriotic spirit. No it was not big, about half an hour or a little more, no big bands, or big fancy units, mostly home town folks. What impressed me the most, from numerous organizations, so many KIDS in the line of march. Yes I will go see it again next year. In the afternoon I went to the John Harris Simon Cameron Mansion in Harrisburg, Pa. A gentleman, portraying John Harris Jr., read the Constitution of the United States of America several times during the day. The historical society had a book table, face painting, and cut outs for the kids, plenty of water, historical material, a couple playing Patriotic songs on stringed instruments and several Colonial Soldiers. It was quite shady under the large trees and there was a little breeze off the river. There was a small steady stream of people wandering in and staying a while. It is events like this and the small parades that help plant the seed of Patriotism and history in our young people. They do not seem to get much of it in the school system(s).

On Friday July 6th I went to the Battle of Gettysburg reenactment. Every year there I see a large tent display of the Sons of Confederate Veterans with plenty of information and hand out material. Another large tent there has tables for Historical Societies, artist, book signers, etc, but nowhere did I see a table or display provided by our grand organization, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War or anything about the Grand Army of the Republic; Why? This should not be a one camp project! - We are into the second year of the 150th Anniversary of the Civil War and I feel the Sons are missing the boat in some areas. I am willing to help in some small way and with some money! Regarding my age and lack of the old ZIP, I optioned not to go back out into the 100+ degree weather; Saturday, I stayed home. I would like to hear what some of our other members did to celebrate the 4th!

Encampment-

Convention was held in Greensburg PA.

Commander in Chief Donald Palmer, native of Missouri, visited with us the entire weekend and participated in business sessions, campfire and banquet Saturday evening.

Executive Director David W. Demmy, Sr passed National charter to Brother Don to hand-carry to National Encampment-Convention in LA, California next month. Brother David will be flying to the event and cannot carry charter from PA to CA. Following the Encampment, Marilyn and David will be traveling a bit farther west, about 5 hours out into the Pacific. The National office will be closed from August 8 thru 20.

And extract from Brother Don's message to Pennsylvania Encampment included statistics from the National survey all of us were invited to participate in late last year. One our average age 63 – we must recruit younger personnel or our grand organization will not survive decades from now.

All 5 of the Allied Orders of the GAR are 15,000 in strength, with sons having over 6200 Brothers.

2014 PA Encampment site is leaning towards Penn State Convention Center. There are 9 museums and bus tours in the general area.

General Orders 2 June 27, 1932 Headquarters, Department of Pennsylvania GAR City Hall Philadelphia.

At the 66th annual Encampment of the [PA] Department held at Harrisburg, June 22, Jacob Urich, GAR Post 58, Harrisburg, was elected and designated at Senior Vice-Department Commander.

The 66th annual Encampment of the Department, held at Harrisburg, was largely attended by comrades and members of our auxiliary and allied organizations. No effort was spared to make the comrades comfortable and to afford them an enjoyable week.

The Encampment was held in the Penn-Harris [tower] Hotel which was admirably adapted for the purpose.

The camp-fire on Wednesday evening was held in the auditorium of the [state] Library Building, which was filled to capacity.

Governor Pinchot welcomed the comrades to the State Capitol. The Commander in Chief presided and addresses were made by comrades, ladies of our allied organizations.

By command of Jacob Barron, Department Commander, Samuel Town, Assistant Adjutant General.
